NEW FORD WILL BE UN VEILED TO PUBLIC TODAY

What the whole country has been anxiously awaiting will be unveiled today in several thousand display rooms located all over the country. The new Ford car makes its first appearance.

The American public has never before awaited with as much interest the announcement of any one thing as the time when the new car would be first displayed, what the improvements were to be and what the prices would be.

For months during a lull in business it has been contended that we were just feeling the effect of the close-down of the Ford factories and the consequent withdrawal of Ford from the markets of the world for all kinds of material and labor. It is claimed by some economists that with the Ford plants speeded up to full production, business over the country will be stimulated. With one branch of the automobile industry busy, other manufacturers of cars will profit with it for thousands of prospective owners of cars were waiting to see what the new Ford car would be, before making another purchase.

Mr. Ralph A. Murdock, local Ford dealer, is very optimistic over the new car and feels confident that the public will find in the Model A what it has been demanding in the light car class.

Mr. Murdock says the new car is a marvel for beauty and appointment. It holds the road easily and can take a speed of 62 miles an hour. It has been designed for economy in operation yet has power and speed with riding comfort.

Prices of the new car range from $385 to $570, according to the type. Trucks from $480 to $610.

Tudor sedan, $495. Four-door sedan, $570. Coupe, $495. Sport Coupe, $550. Phaeton, $595. Roadster, $385. With pickup body, $395. Chassis, $325.

Truck chassis $450, with cab, $545. With cab and express body, $600. Cab and stake body, $610. Truck chassis with cab and platform body, $595.

Rural Teacher Is Exonerated

Miss Lorena Drewess, teacher in the McPherson district school, Spring Valley township, was exonerated of a charge of assaulting a pupil, Robert Faulkner, aged 12, when the boy's father, Clyde Faulkner, withdrew the affidavit he had filed against her in the court of R. O. Copey, justice of peace in Xenia.

Rural school authorities were preparing to defend Miss Drewess against the charge on which she was to have had a hearing last Saturday. They denied that the boy had been hit in the eye by the teacher, while she was disciplining him.

SEDAN UPSET; NO ONE HURT

Mr. John Johnson and Miss Mary Beam had an unusual experience last Saturday when the car they were driving left the road at the first turn between here and Clifton and landed in the ditch with all four wheels in the air. The car was resting squarely on the top and they made their exit by a rear door. Neither were hurt in the shakeup and the car was not damaged beyond a slightly bent fender. The sedan belonged to Mr. M. C. Nagley.

REV. CHAS. GEE TAKES OWN LIFE

Rev. Charles Gee, aged 71, well-known colored citizen, a retired minister, committed suicide last Friday in the basement of a business house in his city.

Rev. Gee spent two days here with his nephew, Charles E. Smith, and left Friday morning for Greenfield. He had not been well for some time and was much depressed. He had all arrangements made to come here and spend the winter with his nephew as he had given up his home. His wife died two years ago and there was no family. It has been learned that Rev. Gee made effort at five different business houses to purchase a revolver before returning to Greenfield. He had all his business affairs arranged and arrangements made for his funeral.

The funeral was held Sunday afternoon in the chapel at the Greenfield cemetery.

Rev. Gee was reputed to be a man of considerable means as he had developed a big business after retiring from the ministry in real estate. It is reported he had at some time during his business career purchased and remodeled 25 residences in his city.

Rev. Gee was at one time presiding elder in the A. M. E. church and for a short time served as head of the C. N. I. Department at Wilberforce following the death of Prof. Shorter.

GRAIN COMPANY CORN SHOW A GREAT SUCCESS

The corn show given last Saturday by the Cedarville Farmers' Grain Co. drew several hundred people, many of them coming from adjoining counties. This was the third adventure for the local concern along this line and was even more successful than those of the past.

Considering the general quality of corn this year the exhibit was remarkable in that the quality of the corn exhibited was as good as in former years. More than eighty different farmers had corn entered in the show. The judging was by Prof. W. E. Hanger of the O. S. U. and his talk during the afternoon on corn raising was very interesting to a large crowd. He paid a fine compliment to this community as being one of the best corn producing sections in the United States.

The Parent Teachers' Association of the Ross Township Schools conducted a market at the Grain Company store during the day and music was furnished by the Ross High School orchestra.

Manager Harry Lewis of the Grain Company has been highly complimented on the success of the corn show.

Summer Weather In November

November went out with a rather bad temper leaving behind a taste of all kinds of weather the last day. It fell for the 29th to be the warmest November day in the history of the weather bureau. Locally the mercury stood at 70 much of the afternoon. Wednesday found a day of rain, with cooler weather at nightfall that brought a light snow for a few minutes. However it did not last long and only a slight freeze was reported Thursday morning. The drop of more than 40 degrees in temperature was quite noticeable to Ohioans.

Blame Lifted For Automobile Accident

Earl Heironimus, who was unfortunate in striking Milton Canade in Selma last week, causing injuries that caused the aged man's death Wednesday, was exonerated from blame by Clark county officials who investigated. ## BARN BURNED; BODY IS FOUND

What has been thought to be the remains of a man have been found in the ruins of a barn that burned near Osborn Monday night. Frank Clemans has been investigating. A part of a shot gun was found nearby and it is reported that a man with a gun was seen in the vicinity of the barn some hours previous to the fire. No identification has been yet discovered.

It is the belief of the officials that the man was a hunter and had gone into the barn to rest and probably set fire to it while smoking.

A large barn on government military land near Wright field, Osborn, was burned early Monday evening. The barn was located at the intersection of the Big Four, the I. C. E. traction and the Dayton pike. The barn, a corn crib and other outbuildings burned. The residence, a brick with a slate roof was saved. The fire was easily seen by many from this place.

The contents of the barn, especially live stock, were saved when soldiers offered assistance. The Wright field fire company and the Osborn company did what was possible to save the barn but the high wind made this a hopeless task.

The loss is placed at $10,000 with no insurance to the tenant, Edward Holman. Three thousand people were attracted to the fire.

Steer Chews Cud in Bank Lobby

A PRIZE steer weighing 1,100 pounds, and bringing a price of $2,200.00, was a unique display in the lobby of The Union Trust Company, Cleveland, the largest single banking room in the world, recently.

The steer was raised by Ralph Bender, a sixteen-year-old farm lad of Waldo, Ohio. He won the grand prize at the Cleveland Live Stock Show in the Cleveland Public Auditorium, where in 1924 Calvin Coolidge received the Republican nomination for President.

At the conclusion of the Livestock Show the steer was bid in at auction by E. W. Phelps of Swift & Co. for W. L. Ross, President of the Nickel Plate Railroad. In the steer's pen in the Union Trust lobby Mr. Ross presented Ralph with the check for $2,200.00 in payment for the steer.

Ralph immediately took his check to one of the bank's savings tellers and deposited the whole $2,200.00 in a savings account, which he expects will take him through college when he is old enough. It is his ambition to take a complete agricultural course and become a raiser of fine cattle.

GREENE COUNTY LIVE STOCK WINS HONORS

E. Edson Smith, a 55-year-old Corvillis, Mont., farmer, whose secret of wheat growing is "old fashioned elbow grease" is the new wheat king of North America.

Competing against the best wheat producers of the United States and Canada at the international live stock exposition, Smith wrested the prize title from the Canadian, Herman Trelle of the Peace River district of Alberta, Canada. It was only the third time in seventeen years of competition that Uncle Sam's rural sons have been able to take the huge cup, emblematic of the championship.

Smith, who learned farming on his father's farm in Knoxville, Iowa, has been a diversified farmer on about 400 acres near Corvillis, 100 miles west of Butte, for 22 years. Besides winning the wheat growing championship with the sample of hard, red winter wheat, the Montana farmer, who is the oldest exhibitor of the show, also won the durum wheat cup for the 3rd consecutive year, thereby gaining permanent possession of the prize.

California, Kansas, Iowa, Kentucky Indiana and Illinois were the states registering the greatest number of victories in the cattle, sheep and swine exhibitions. Among the agricultural colleges the products of Iowa State college easily led the field.

Creekdale Hark, owned by Isler & Sons of Prospect, won first in the broad ing cattle division, Shorthorns, class three, bull, calved June 1 and December 21, 1925, at the livestock show.

In the horse department, Percheron class 21, stallions, four years old and under five, second place was given to Leahovah, owned by G. A. Dix, Delaware.

In the fat cattle division, Aberdeen Angus steers class 196, steer, aged or Martin heifer, calved since Jan. 1, 1927, first place, was won by Whiting Pele, owned by E. H. Hutchinson & Son, Greene county, O.

Contestants from Ontario, Missouri and Ohio placed a strong bid for the Shorthorn champion, winning easily in their respective classes. The entries of Duncan Campbell, Albany, Mo., and F. D. Isler and Son, Prospect, were some of the best ever displayed at the exposition.

Songs of Plain Folks For Mother

For Mother, flowers on Mother's Day;
For Mother, red carnations gay;
For Mother, phrases fine,—but stay!
What's that to Mother?

Oh, surely what she really wants
Is not the showy, tinsel'd vaunts
But love that seeks its childhood haunts—
Just love for Mother;

Just love that says, "Oh Mother dear,
What would we do without you here?"
Just love with merry jests that cheer
The heart of Mother.

Mother, we give no studied praise,
Such as some speak on Mother's Days.
Our hearts are full of love that stays
Your own, our Mother.

THE ATMOSPHERE IS CLEARING

The result of the referendum election has finally soaked in and the public has been satisfied that an attempt was made to sell a gold brick to all unsuspecting buyers. Many innocent persons were roped in by false claims and made to believe that prohibition enforcement was at stake in Ohio. The dry-for-profit politicians have been left in an embarrassing position and will be looked upon in the future with more or less suspicion as to sincerity.

A staggering blow was administered the Ohio Anti-Saloon League politicians when the "Clipsheet", a regular publication sent out by the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals, of the Methodist Church, with headquarters in Washington, D. C., under date of Nov. 21, had the following to say:

"In Ohio, it seems that the Anti Saloon League did approve a measure involving the fee system of compensating Justices of the Peace. That system is in bad odor all over the United States and if we are not mistaken the voters are prepared to reject it whenever it is found on the ballot. The rural dry districts of Ohio joined with the cities in condemning the plan. Once again we will say, just by way of illustration and not to seize an opportunity of expressing an opinion on matters on which we are not perfectly informed, that it is probable that we would have voted with the hundreds of thousands of so-called wet Ohio voters who will certainly once again strike heavily at the liquor interests at the first opportunity."

It has been contended for the past five years that the Ohio branch of the Anti Saloon League was not the organization of ten years ago fighting against odds to win for prohibition. That the present organization has meddled in other legislation, there can be no denial. Lobby interests have, united at Columbus, good, bad and indifferent, and much legislation has been passed by this combination, that has been not only against public policy but much to the profit of the utility interests. The work of the last legislature, due to lobby control, stands as a shining disgrace to the state and is not only reflected in the result on the referendum but from criticism leveled at the Ohio League leaders. The Christian Century, a religious publication in Chicago, is very pointed in its criticism of the Ohio League as follows:

"The Christian Century recommended a thorough house-cleaning asking a change in the personnel of the league leadership. In working for the Marshall bill, the Anti Saloon League was acting at the instance of Ohio churches which compose the membership. Dr. E. J. Moore, state superintendent, called together the trustees who represent the churches and after a lengthy discussion they decided that since the referendum had been brought up by the liquor interests, they should uphold the bill.

Rev. Charles L. Debow, pastor of the First M. E. church, Cleveland, charged that the League did not act fairly on the Marshall bill. The bill had some bad provisions and, the league should have been honest enough to admit these weaknesses. Instead it kept still about them. I am greatly dissatisfied with the Anti Saloon League though my church is a part of it and has tried to be co-operative."

That the League played under cover and kept circumstances and many facts from members of the board which represented the churches, is admitted. The League never related how the Marshall bill was passed. It did not inform the trustees that Senator Bender, a known dry leader, and the Automobile clubs had already announced that they would seek a referendum following the passage of the bill. The trustees were kept in ignorance of what had been done and in that way approved what had been proposed. The League was very careful to keep in the dark the plan of the organized lobbyists to pass only certain bills and kill others. Wet and dry lobbyists, utility lobbyists, rail lobbyists, every kind of a lobbyist that had any amount of money at his disposal had a part in forming the legislative program. The League has not and cannot make a denial of the legislative control. The churches of Ohio should now make a demand for a house-cleaning such as the Christian Century suggests.

The only comment from Ohio Anti Saloon League headquarters concerning the criticism of the Chicago religious publication, is from F. L. Dushman, editor of the American Issue. He contends:

"Fight for the bill was urged by the trustees of the Ohio Anti-Saloon League, when about 60 of them, representing churches in Ohio, met in Columbus and discussed the merits of the bill. Their action revealed the attitude of the churches and the state league leaders couldn't do anything but back the bill."

The state of Ohio is absolutely under the control of the utility interests. The utility crowd has employed the best brains in the world to protect its interests and push its program regardless of the desires of the public. Years ago the saloon interests coupled up with big business and the two stood hand in hand. Today the utility crowd works hand in hand with the League politicians. While the league poses as a defender of the public morals, it winks at the utility crowd passing legislation that permits unjust charges on the part of the large utility companies. The public is becoming more and more acquainted with what has happened in Columbus the last two legislative sessions. Much of the re-action was reflected in the referendum vote. The League should express itself on the plan of endorsing candidates for the legislature to the dry voters of Ohio, that have been picked by the utility lobbyists subject to the League's approval.

God did for this nation what He did for no other nation in the history of the world. He evidenced it when He assigned the boundaries of Israel's inheritance (see Num. 34:1-15).

He gathered out the stones when the Canaanites were exterminated.
The choicest vine which was planted therein was the Israelitish nation which had gone through the disciplinary process in Egyptian bondage.
He built a tower in it when under David Jerusalem was made its capital city.

2. The obligation of the nation
(vv. 2, 3).

The purpose of a vineyard is to bear fruit. The object of the husbandman in planting a vineyard and nurturing it is that it might bear fruit. The purpose of God in the selection and the blessing of the Israelitish nation was that it might bring forth fruit to His glory.

3. It bore only wild grapes (v. 4).

4. The desolation of the vineyard
(vv. 5-7).

Since all efforts had been wasted,
the owner of the vineyard now solves to abandon it to the wild beasts of the forest.

11. The Sins Which Brought Ruin
to the Nation (vv. 8-23).

The causes of this destruction are presented under six woes, each one pronounced against a particular sin.

1. Monopoly and oppression of the poor (vv. 8-10).

The crime against which the first woe was denounced is that of the avaricious grasping after property which leads to the accumulation of wealth in the hands of the few. "Joining house to house" and "laying hold to their" means the sin of the great monopoly was in the agricultural district takes the form of the land grabber. In the commercial centers, the form of the big men crushing out
the small ones.

2. Dissipation (vv. 11-17).
The sin here denounced is drinkenness. Several features are connected with this one sin.

(1) Drinking made the life business
of some (v. 11).

They get up early and continue until late at night, until their whole being is inflamed.

(2) The effort to give their heathen
business a show of refinement (v. 12).

This is why pleasing music is heard pouring forth from the dens of infamy over our land.

(3) Blindness to God's warnings and judgments (v. 13).

Their drinking and dissipation rendered them insensible to the dealings of Providence.

(4) God's judgments for such sins
(vv. 14-17).

They went into captivity. The immediate cause assigned is ignorance, but it is a willful ignorance for which they are held responsible. They not only go into captivity, but there is great mortality among those who drink (v. 14). The records everywhere show a much higher death rate among drinking men. Drinking degrades all classes (v. 15). The country itself was made a waste (vv. 18, 19). So daring do they become that they defy the judgments of the Almighty (v. 19).

3. Moral confusion (v. 20).

This woe is pronounced against those who try to adjust moral conditions to suit their sensual appetites.

4. Conceit (v. 21).

The fifth woe is pronounced against the sin of self-conceit. Many today have become so affected by sin that they are unable to make moral discriminations. Having a false estimate of their own wisdom they plan and act without reference to God.

5. Perversion of justice (vv. 22, 23).

The sixth woe is denounced against those who are in places of justice as judges. Because of their lack of moral discrimination, and because of desire for temporal gain they cause
justice to miscarry.

Treatment of Sin

Use sin as it will use you. Spare it not for it will not spare you. It is your murderer, and the murderer of the world. Use it, therefore as a murderer should be used.—Richard Baxter.

Fear of Mistakes

Some of us know what it is to be nervously afraid of making mistakes in our work. How graciously He meets this with "I will direct their work in truth."—Frances Ridley Havergal.

Grounds for a Wedding

A nun actress has remarried her first husband. The chief reasons, we understand, are that they were acquainted with each other and happened to be free at the same time.—
London Opinion.

Powerful Microscope

The bureau of chemistry says that fies 500 times is used to see bacteria.

For Meditation

By LEONARD A. BARRETT

THE POWER TO FORGIVE

JEAN VAL JEAN was a pulley slave. One day he broke the glass of a baker's window and stole a loaf of warm brown bread, which he gave to his sister to feed her seven hungry children. For this crime he spent 19 years in prison. He left the prison with a dry eye and a withered heart, for during all that time he had not shed a tear.

Failing to find work and with starvation facing him, he shook his fist at the church. With this spirit in his heart he entered the home of a bishop who welcomed him as "Brother." After supper, the bishop took a silver candlestick, handed another to Jean and showed him to his room. Jean stole the candlestick that night. The next morning when soldiers led him back, the bishop forgave him and made him a present of the candlesticks.

Jean started life that day with a new heart. He became wealthy and generous, and was elected mayor of his town. When dying, the light of the candlestick fell upon him as his white face looked toward heaven, for with the silver candlestick the bishop had literally bought his soul.

Dainty Handkerchief Case

Remembering that Santa Claus is sure to bring his usual quota of handkerchiefs to every member of the family, a case to put them in is a very timely gift. Aside from its usefulness a handkerchief case as here pictured adds a note of beauty to any boudoir. There is quite a lace craze on just now for things decorative about the home as well as for personal adornment. These perfumed lace cases come satin-padded in any desired tone or tint.

Goldfish Bowl Fires

That pretty bowl of goldfish that looks so innocent in your window may set your house on fire by acting as a burning glass and refracting the sun's rays on inflammable material. Mirrors, too, are dangerous, as well as glass powder-bowls, bottles, and, most of all, shaving mirrors, because they are concave.

Period of Growth

Not all trees begin to grow at the same time. Some begin early in spring, while others delay starting their growth until late April or early May, says the American Tree association. The wild black cherry starts about the first of April, while the tulip tree or yellow poplar does not begin until late in April, and the Norway spruce waits until early in May.

Over-Generous Souls

Acquaintance with one or two super-generous persons never fails to emphasize the blessedness of giving over the blessedness of receiving.—Exchange.

Money Talks

The brain was made to think with,
but the pocketbook is responsible for most of the decisions.—Arkansas Democrat.

Our Big Neighbor

The Dominion of Canada came into existence in 1867. The original provinces covered 350,158 square miles of land and inland waters. Today the land and water area of Canada is 3, 697,123 square miles.

Explaining Sneezes

A sneeze is a sudden, violent and spasmodic exhalation of breath, wholly or partly through the nose. A sneeze is caused by irritation of the nasal branches of the fifth pair of cranial nerves.

SANTA CLAUS LOST IN PARROT'S ALLEY

THE HILL Despard pegged away in the shoemaker's shop as a wise old bird kept him company. The canary that thrilled in his cage was the only other companion of his labors and the object of the jealous contempt of the ancient parrot, which viewed it from his perch as a momentary and frivolous interruption to the course of serious affairs.

The parrot had regarded even Despard himself as a late bubble on the stream of events, and, while it passed from the hands of a wandering sailor into the shoemaker's care, it had reached out so far that the crooked and straggling lane had come to be called "Parrot's Alley."

This alley was of such a nature that it had never been visited by those rays of pleasant light that shine from Christmas trees or those cheering gifts that do so much to make little folks and big folks happy. It was a dull and dirty place, where patched clothes hung upon clotheslines and dogs fought over bones; where there was not much to wear, not much to eat, not much peace.

So that Santa Claus, taking the wrong turn, found himself in a strange locality, and, after peering about in the unlighted gloom, had to confess that he was lost.

For a moment his merry face was clouded, but, catching sight of a gleam in Despard's shop, he pushed open his door and entered. Laying down one of his large bundles, that was marked "For the Forgotten Ones," he was about to go upstairs, hoping to find out where he was, when a voice in the darkness said, "Hello, papa's boy! Want to talk to papa a little? Well, can't see to talk to papa in the dark!"

Frightened for the first time in his life, Santa Claus made for the door and rushed out. But he left the bundle behind him—Christopher G. Hazard.

KEEPING CHRISTMAS —LET ALL BE HAPPY

IT IS a good thing to observe Christmas day. The mere marking of times and seasons, when men agree to stop work and make merry together, is a wise and wholesome custom. It helps one to feel the supremacy of the common life over the individual life. It reminds a man to set his own little watch, now and then, by the great clock of humanity which runs on sun time.

But there is a better thing than the observance of Christmas day, and that is keeping Christmas. — Frank Herbert Sweet.

It Is Easy to Spread Happiness to Others

IT WAS snowing—not the nice, dry kind, but the kind that leaves hair feathers bedraggled and tempers grouchy.

The streets were crowded with holiday shoppers and people locked cross. A woman hurried toward me, holding to a boy of four by one hand and carrying a heavy basket with the other.

He tried to keep up, but he missed a step now and then; at last he stumbled and fell, and the mother dragged him up and said things to him, while he tried not to cry.

At the edge of the walk another woman got out of a brougham and started to cross over to the shop door.

She took in the scene, and understood—it was strange how few people do understand. She stepped over to the child, unpinned a spray of holly from her fur coat and pinned it on his ragged little jacket.

"Only two days till Christmas," she said. "Isn't it great?"

The mother gave her that knowing look mothers have, and the boy smiled back at her.

The crowd jogged on, but people were half smiling in spite of the wet snow and the slushy walks.

The mother had lost some of the tired look, and the boy was taking skipping steps as he looked down happily at the spray of holly on his coat.

BROWNIE'S WINTER TRIP

"I'M GOING on a little winter trip today," said Billie Brownie to Peter Gnome.

He had just met Peter Gnome right on the outskirts of Brownie's.

"What are you about to do, Peter?" Billie asked. "I don't mean to be rude, but I'm always interested in your adventures."

"I have a meeting today of the Every-Day-Is-Nice-Day club," said Peter. "Sorry you cannot come to the meeting. But, of course, you don't need to come! You think every day is nice, anyway."

"Sorry, too, I cannot come," said Billie Brownie. "You see, I am taking so many trips these days—getting to know so many of the children of dear old Mother Nature.

Then Billie Brownie met groups of winter birds.

"Today she suggested that I should take a winter trip and meet some of the winter birds, I believe. Couldn't you come, too?"

"I don't believe I possibly could," said Peter Gnome. "But when you come back from your trip, won't you come and give us a talk about winter birds?"

"Gladly, gladly," said Billie Brownie. And then they shook hands, hugged each other and went in different directions, each shouting after the other: "Then I'll see you soon again!"

Then Billie Brownie met groups of winter birds.

"Hello, Billie Brownie!" said a voice, and, looking about, Billie Brownie saw his friend, Judge Just Praise.

Judge Just Praise is a great believer in praising and encouraging.

He doesn't think there is enough praising of creatures. He says it makes people do much better in their work and in their studies and in their conduct—in everything—to be praised and encouraged once in a while.

"Hello, Judge!" said Billie Brownie. "I just saw a lovely little dog being given a collar with a silver plate attached, upon which was the little dog's name and some nice words about the dog," said the Judge.

"That little dog," Judge Just Praise continued, "saved a great many people in a bad fire. Oh, that dog was a splendid hero, and it delighted my heart to see the reward being given."

"And then I also saw a big St. Bernard dog—they're an splendid—save a cat from burning."

"The dog had awakened the dignified members of the family, which soon became flames."

"Then he had noticed that the cat was missing. Back into the burning house he had gone to come forth a little later carrying his cat friend in his mouth. The cat was frightened, but not hurt."

"And that dog is going to be rewarded for saving the lives of all the family—the cat, too! I heard some one say that he would be given a medal if he had not awakened the family, when he did the flames would have kept them from being able to escape out of the house."

"But now I must be on my way. Hope to see you soon, Billie."

Then Billie Brownie met groups of the winter birds.

"We're the American Crossbills," the American Crossbills chirped. "We sing and we twitter and we fly off and then fly back again without any special reason—just for fun."

"We don't believe in doing every thing for a special reason. But we are fond of pine cones and our crossed bills or overlapping bills make it easy for us to pull the pine cones apart so we can reach the seeds."

"We're somewhat alike," said the White-Winged Crossbills, "only you don't see so many of us. Some winter we don't appear at all."

"I wear a lovely rose-colored costume," said Mr. White-Winged Crossbill, "and the Mrs. White-Winged Crossbill wears yellow. It is something the same with the American Crossbills, though the Mr. American Crossbills wear more of a brownish-red costume, and my favorite color is rose."

Then Billie Brownie met the Chickadees, the Song Sparrows and the Cedar Waxwings, and they all told him they liked to be about in the winter but they did love to have some delicacies left about for them.

Of Gay Enamel Cloth

A cushion of colorful enamel cloth with a pattern of realistic-looking gay flowers is warranted to bring a real thrill on Christmas morn to the friend who enthralls on the subject of interior decoration, and who was eloquent over "a note of color" in the scheme of things. Do not confuse enamel cloth with glazed china or crotona or anything of that sort. It looks rather like colored patent leather and it is produced in every lovely shade, both pastel tints and exotic colorings, also black.

Overcoming Disease

Statistics show that the length of the average human life is steadily increasing and its much greater than it was half a century or a century ago. Of course this does not mean that the average individual is healthier or stronger. The increase is due chiefly to the conquest of disease, control of epidemics, better infant care, etc.

No Royal Road

"The hardest way is almost invariably the best way," said Thomas A. Edison; and he went on to declare that whenever he achieved a result quickly and easily he always distrusts it and proceeded to test it by a different and more difficult method. The road to the heights must be steep and tortuous.—Youth's Companion.

Are You "Knowledgeable"?

Europe has a new word to play with. Every year or so it seems as if it picks up an old one used in a new way. This year it is the thing to use "knowledgeable" in lieu of "learned" or words of similar meaning. One may be "knowledgeable" in music, horses, politics, women or anything else.

Biblical Quotation

The expression "eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot" occurs in Exodus chapter 21, verse 24; the same thought is also in Leviticus, chapter 24, verse 23 and Deuteronomy, chapter 19, verse 21. In the New Testament, Matthew, chapter 5, verse 38, it is quoted, with the Christian attitude toward it.

INTRODUCTION OF THE New FORD Cars Friday and Saturday

Cedarville will get its first full description of the new line of Ford automobiles, today, Friday.

A public reception to be held by the local dealer is part of the national introduction of the new Ford models. In thousands of communities all over the United States today this new line of moderate-priced light automobiles will be introduced to millions of people.

The doors of the local showroom are to be opened promptly at 7:30 and attendants will be on hand throughout the remainder of the day to explain the new and interesting features of the car which is expected to make a new chapter in automotive history.

The new Ford cars are said to be the product of several years of study and planning by Henry Ford and his engineers in the great Ford laboratories at Dearborn. Mr. Ford himself has announced that "there is nothing quite like the new Ford car" and has stated that it will prove just as great a pioneer in the present field of low price light cars of quality as the famous Model T was a pioneer in its field for more than nineteen years.

Among the visitors to the reception today will be many local officials, executives of business, civic and professional organizations and other leaders in the life of the community, who have been specially invited.

The performance of these new cars, it is said, will be startling when viewed in the light of automobile performance of the past.

The local dealer has been notified by Ford officials at Detroit that the factories throughout the country are now preparing to produce the new cars in numbers exceeding even the tremendous production records achieved in the manufacture of the Model T line.

Company officials at Detroit also repeated their early announcement that production of the new Ford line will not make the Model T line obsolete. The manufacture of new parts for Model T replacements will continue to be an important factor of the Ford plants as long as any of the Model T cars are still in operation, the local dealer has been advised. Because of this policy, present owners of Model T Ford cars will be able to keep their cars in perfect order as long as these cars remain in commission.
